RATHLEEN PARLOW CHARMS
AT HER VIOLIN RECITAL.

Rathleen Parlow, the young Canadian violinist, who deservedly became a great favorite in New York, Rave a recital at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon before a large and demonstrative audience. She was accompanied at the plane by Kurt Schindler. At first it seemed as if she were not quite in form. Her intonation was not always Bidg. Marshall, Mich. it seemed as if she were not quite in form. Her intonation was not always correct. Soon, however, she recovered berself and was playing with all the sureness and the brilliancy of which she is possessed. Her original programme consisted of Lalo's "Symphonic Espagnol," Jules Conus's concerto in Eminor, Sinding's suite in A minor and Hungarian dances by Brahms-Joachim and Leopoid von Auer. It was fortunate for her that she offered no more, for she was compelled by the insistence of the applause to double the number of compositions that she played.

"LOBETANZ," REPEATED, STARTS GADSKI ON A BUSY WEEK-END. "Lobetanz," with the original cast that includes Johanna Gadski, Hermann Jadlowker, William Hinshaw, Lenora Sparkes, Anna Case and Herbert Witherspoon, Alfred Hertz conducting, was repeated to the delight of a large au-dience at the Metropolitan Opera House last night. Afterward the Russian dan-cers gave a ballet divertissement. Mme. Gadski is booked for a busy week-end. The Princess last night is to be followed by Aida to-night and Isolde next Monday night. Few sopranes would care to undertake so much in so short a,time.

GATTI-CASAZZA AND TOSCANINI RE-ENGAGED FOR THREE YEARS. Otto H. Kahn, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Opera Company, announced last night that the contracts with Guillo Gatti-Casazza, the general manager, and Arture Tescanini, the conductor, have been renewed for the next three seasons, which means up to 1915. The renewals, Mr. Kahn said, were made with the unanimous ap-proval of the Board of Directors.

When your food does not digest, when det night with the Philharmonic So-clety. He was the soloist in Rubinstein's comfortable feeling of fuliness, when the soncerto No. 5 in E flat major, for the breath is foul, the tongue coated and that concerte No. 5 in E flat major, for the playing of which at Berlin in $95 he won the Rubanstein prize. Since then, in Europe and in America, he has established himself as one of the foremost of living planista. He played last night with a masterfulness, with a clarity of tone and with a sentiment that were irresictibly beautiful, and he fitted anto the ensemble with Mr. Stransky and his orchestra without unduly projecting himself.

'The concert was begun with Brahma's commanding first symphony, to the last movement of which Mr. Stransky gave an especially fine reading. Smetana's symphonic poem, "Vitava," was also well played. At the end came Tschailkowsky's "1812" overture, stunningly purformed to be without this wonderful little remedy for stomach troubles. Stuart's played.
